

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Young Queen and the Old.
The Old Queen stooped in the stillness where the jeweled head drooped low;
"Daughters no more, but Sister, and doubtless Daughter too." Mother of many princes and child of the child I bore, What good thing shall I wish thee that I have not wished before?

"Shall I give thee delight in dominion—inere pride of thy setting forth?
Nay, we women together—we know what that lust is worth.
Pence in thy utmost borders, and strength on a road untrod?
These are dealt or diminished at the secret will of god.

"I have awayed troublous counsels, I am wise in terrible things; Father and son and grandson, I have known the heart of kings; Shall I give thee my sleepless wisdom, or the gift all women have?
Ay, we live women together; I give thee thy people's love:

"Tempered, august, abiding, reluctant prayers or vows.
Eager in face of peril as thine for thy mother's house.
God requite thee, my Sister, through the wonderful years to be.
And make thy people to love thee as thou hast loved me!"
—Rudyard Kipling.

Debutantes at Cards.

Seven in hand euchre was the merry game played at Mrs. Calvin Whiteley's beautiful card party given last evening to Miss Margaret McGuire and Miss Louise McAdams.
Twenty-one charming debutantes gathered about the tables in the parlors, where the crimson flame of poinsettias carried on the color scheme in red, and where pretty faces flushed rosy under the soft glow of shaded waxen tapers in silver candelabra.
The young ladies playing in addition to the guests of honor were Miss Gattie McGuire, Miss van Santvoord, of Troy, N. Y.; Miss Mary Buford, Miss Duhling, of Philadelphia; Miss Elizabeth Atkinson, Miss Mamo and Nellie Davenport, Miss Jessie Hazard, Miss Burwell, Miss Edney, Miss Bernard, Cooke, Miss Mildred Forbes, Miss Kathleen Anderson, Miss Laura Rutherford, Miss Bessie Tompkins, Miss Allene Stokes, Miss Ruth He-bard, Miss Bessie Uphur, Miss Mamie Williams and Miss Nolting.

Annual Silver Tea.

The annual silver tea of the Junior Hollywood Memorial Association will be given in Lee Camp Hall, Monday, January 23d, from 5 to 8 P. M.
Miss Lella Hill, the chairman of arrangements, will have associated with her, among others, Misses Annie and Lola Gray, Miss Patti Lyell, Miss Rosalie Jones, Miss Elizabeth Townes, Miss Katherine Watkins, Miss Bessie Selden, Miss Nellie Boykin and Miss Bessie Hill.
The Junior Association has charge of Lee Camp Hall, the officers' section Lindsey is chairman of the committee.
They desire a large attendance at their annual tea to which the public and their friends are invited.

Kindergarten Entertainment.

The members of the Valentine Kindergarten Mothers' Club have planned an entertainment for Thursday, the 19th, instant, which will replace their former effort.

The programme is of the highest order and embraces selections which cannot fail to please the most critical.
Falling on the night of the birthday of Robert E. Lee, due tribute will be paid the great Southern hero. Mrs. J. W. Winstead is chairman of the committee, being ably assisted by Mesdames Mul-doney, Goodwin and Wilson. The beautiful hall of Murphy's Annex has been secured for the occasion and the sale of tickets indicates that a large number of the members of the club will be present that night. The programme will be announced later.

General Lee's Birthday.

General Lee's birthday, Thursday, January 19th, will be observed by the presentation of crosses of honor to Confederate veterans in Randolph Hall, at Lee Camp Home.

The meeting will be called to order at 8 P. M. by the chairman of the camp.
Following the opening prayer, will be offered by the Rev. Landon Mason. Music by a chorus of four voices from the Richmond High School, under the direction of Miss Henry, will follow, after which there will be an informal address from Major R. T.
Lunter. The remaining part of the programme will include the reading of rules and the calling of veterans' names, by Adjutant J. Taylor Stratton; the presentation of crosses by the president of the Richmond Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, and informal speaking. The Confederate organizations and the public are cordially invited to be present. The names of those on whom crosses will be bestowed are:

SALLY IN OUR ALLEY.

By HENRY CAREY.

Little is known of this English poet and musical composer, except that he was born near the end of the seventeenth century—about 1665—and that he is supposed to have committed suicide at London in 1743. He wrote several burlesques and farces, but is chiefly noted as the author of "God Save the King" and "Sally in Our Alley."

O F all the girls that are so smart There's none like pretty Sally,
She is the darling of my heart,
And she lives in our alley.
There is no lady in the land Is half so sweet as Sally;
She is the darling of my heart,
And she lives in our alley.

Her father he makes cabbage nets,
And through the street does cry 'em;
Her mother she sells laces long
To such as please to buy 'em;
But sure such folks could ne'er beget
So sweet a girl as Sally!
She is the darling of my heart,
And she lives in our alley.

Of all the days that's in the week
I dearly love but one day—
And that's the day that come betwixt
A Saturday and Monday;
For then I'm dressed all in my best To walk abroad with Sally;
She is the darling of my heart,
And she lives in our alley.

My master carries me to church,
And often am I blamed Because I leave him in the lurch
As soon as text is named;
I leave the church in sermon time
And sink away to Sally;
She is the darling of my heart,
And she lives in our alley.

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, October 11, 1903. One is published each day.

Fore-Terry.

Miss Clemence Fore, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Fore, of Buckingham county, and Mr. H. Luther Terry, of the well known firm of Terry Brothers, will be married to-day at 1:30 P. M. in the present home of Miss Fore, No. 507 North Third Street. The ceremony will be witnessed by the friends and relatives of the young couple, who will leave afterward for a visit to the groom's relatives in Franklin county. Both bride and groom are very popular, and their marriage is an event of interest to their friends.

Out-of-Town Society.

The Philadelphia Inquirer, under date and her name, Don Luis P. Corea, minister to the United States from Corea, who of January 18th, has a picture of Mrs.
Hah Dunlap Jordan, of Macon, Georgia, are now in New York, where Mrs. Jordan, accompanied by a friend, is staying at the Waldorf-Astoria.
The correspondent of the Inquirer believes that Mrs. Jordan's wedding, postponed because of malicious rumors set afoot concerning her, will take place at once. Concerning these rumors, the Inquirer explains the attitude of Mrs. Jordan and her family by publishing the following statement from Mr.
Claude Manning Badgley, Mrs. Jordan's brother-in-law, which says:
"As the brother-in-law of Mrs. Jordan, I wish to say that the attacks made upon Mrs. Luis P. Corea, the Nicaraguan minister, evidently inspired by malice, are absolutely false and have no weight with her or her family, who have had for some time in their possession documents from the most reliable sources which leaves no doubt in their minds as to the ancestry, honor and standing of Mr. Corea in his own country and abroad.

"C. M. BADGLEY."
The wedding was to have taken place several months ago, but was postponed to allow the diplomat an opportunity to prove the falsity of statements made in anonymous letters reflecting on the authenticity of his title to being of noble family and also upon his being unmarried and of Caucasian birth.

Mrs. Jordan never for a moment doubted that her fiancé was all that he was claimed to be. She was, however, demanded time to prove conclusively that there was no foundation for the calumnies directed against him.
